

Writing Direct Speech

Rewrite each sentence below using direct speech.

She asked him if he would like an apple.

She asked him, "Would you _____
_____?"

Sarah told Bob to sit still.

She said, "Bob, would you _____
_____!"

The teacher asked Joe to read to her.

The teacher asked, "Joe, please _____
_____?"

Dad asked where the tool box was.

Dad asked, "Where _____
_____?"

Katie shouted that she wanted that biscuit.

Katie shouted, "Give me _____
_____!"

Sue said she would e-mail me tomorrow.

Sue said, "I will _____
_____."

Louis reminded me to get some milk from the supermarket.

Louis reminded me, "Don't forget to _____
_____."

Matthew shouted to us to pass the ball.

Matthew shouted, "Pass _____
_____!"

The teacher said the class were to wait in the corridor.

The teacher said, "Class, please _____
_____."

Writing Direct Speech

Rewrite each sentence below using direct speech.

She asked him if he would like an apple.

She asked him, "Would you like an apple?"

Sarah told Bob to sit still.

She said, "Bob, would you sit still!"

The teacher asked Joe to read to her.

The teacher asked, "Joe, please would you read to me?"

Dad asked where the tool box was.

Dad asked, "Where is the tool box?"

Katie shouted that she wanted that biscuit.

Katie shouted, "Give me that biscuit!"

Sue said she would e-mail me tomorrow.

Sue said, "I will e-mail you tomorrow."

Louis reminded me to get some milk from the supermarket.

Louis reminded me, "Don't forget to get some milk from the supermarket."

Matthew shouted to us to pass the ball.

Matthew shouted, "Pass the ball!"

The teacher said the class were to wait in the corridor.

The teacher said, "Class, please wait in the corridor."

Writing Direct Speech

Rewrite each sentence below using direct speech.

The boy shouted at me to catch the ball.

The boy shouted at me, "Catch _____
_____!"

Linda explained that she couldn't come to the party.

Linda explained, "I won't be able _____
_____."

The shopkeeper asked if he could help me in any way.

The shopkeeper asked me, "Can I _____
_____?"

My mum whispered that we must be quiet as the baby was asleep.

My mum whispered, "Be quiet, _____
_____."

Emma screamed for help as she was stuck in a tree.

Emma screamed, "Help! I am _____
_____!"

The lady moaned that she had missed the train to Manchester.

The lady moaned, "I have _____
_____."

The motorist enquired where the nearest petrol station was.

The motorist enquired, "Where is _____
_____?"

William asked who had eaten his sandwich.

William asked, "Who has _____
_____?"

Mollie said she would meet me in town opposite the library.

Mollie said to me, "I'll meet you _____
_____."

Writing Direct Speech

Rewrite each sentence below using direct speech.

The boy shouted at me to catch the ball.

The boy shouted at me, "Catch the ball!"

Linda explained that she couldn't come to the party.

Linda explained, "I won't be able to come to the party."

The shopkeeper asked if he could help me in any way.

The shopkeeper asked me, "Can I help you at all?"

My mum whispered that we must be quiet as the baby was asleep.

My mum whispered, "Be quiet, the baby is asleep."

Emma screamed for help as she was stuck in a tree.

Emma screamed, "Help! I am stuck in this tree!"

The lady moaned that she had missed the train to Manchester.

The lady moaned, "I have missed the train to Manchester."

The motorist enquired where the nearest petrol station was.

The motorist enquired, "Where is the nearest petrol station?"

William asked who had eaten his sandwich.

William asked, "Who has eaten my sandwich?"

Mollie said she would meet me in town opposite the library.

Mollie said to me, "I'll meet you in town
opposite the library."