

Writing Direct Speech

Rewrite each sentence below using direct speech.

Julie told Pete that she had found his coat.

---

---

The man apologised that he was late but the train had been delayed.

---

---

The boy whined that his leg hurt because he had fallen off the monkey bars.

---

---

The teacher told Mark his work was of an excellent standard.

---

---

Jenna's father shouted at her to watch the falling apples.

---

---

Mrs Collins asked if any of us would like another cup of tea.

---

---

Ian told Steve that he was going home to have his dinner.

---

---

Jen's mother asked her if she had completed her homework.

---

---

Nicola's dad asked her to tidy her room.

---

---

Writing Direct Speech

Rewrite each sentence below using direct speech.

Julie told Pete that she had found his coat.

Julie said, "Pete, I have found your coat."

The man apologised that he was late but the train had been delayed.

The man apologised, "I'm sorry I am late but the train was delayed."

The boy whined that his leg hurt because he had fallen off the monkey bars.

The boy whined, "My leg hurts because I've fallen off the monkey bars!"

The teacher told Mark his work was of an excellent standard.

The teacher told Mark, "Your work is of an excellent standard."

Jenna's father shouted at her to watch the falling apples.

Jenna's father shouted, "Jenna, watch those falling apples!"

Mrs Collins asked if any of us would like another cup of tea.

Mrs Collins asked, "Would any of you like another cup of tea?"

Ian told Steve that he was going home to have his dinner.

Ian told Steve, "I am going home to have my dinner."

Jen's mother asked her if she had completed her homework.

Jen's mother asked, "Have you completed your homework, Jen?"

Nicola's dad asked her to tidy her room.

Nicola's dad asked, "Nicola, can you please go and tidy your room?"

Writing Direct Speech

Rewrite each sentence below using direct speech.

Dee invited her friend Patsy to the cinema.

---

---

The fairground man shouted it was 50p for three goes on the hook a duck.

---

---

Fred urged his best friend Mark to have another go.

---

---

The headmaster announced to class 5J that they had won 1st prize in the cookery competition.

---

---

The boy's father shouted at him not to do that.

---

---

She said that she had seen Frank with Terry.

---

---

Simon screamed that there was an insect in his soup.

---

---

He asked me what time I would be home from the gym.

---

---

Philip told his mother that he was very tired.

---

---

Writing Direct Speech

Rewrite each sentence below using direct speech.

Dee invited her friend Patsy to the cinema.

Dee asked, "Patsy, would you like to go to the cinema with me?"

The fairground man shouted it was 50p for three goes on the hook a duck.

The fairground man shouted, "50p for three goes on the hook a duck!"

Fred urged his best friend Mark to have another go.

Fred urged, "Go on Mark, have another go!"

The headmaster announced to class 5J that they had won 1st prize in the cookery competition.

The headmaster announced to class 5J, "You have won 1st prize in the cookery competition."

The boy's father shouted at him not to do that.

The boy's father shouted, "Don't do that!"

She said that she had seen Frank with Terry.

She said, "I have seen Frank with Terry."

Simon screamed that there was an insect in his soup.

Simon screamed, "There's an insect in my soup!"

He asked me what time I would be home from the gym.

He asked me, "What time are you going to be home from the gym?"

Philip told his mother that he was very tired.

Philip said, "Mum, I am very tired."